Good Shepherd employees, health care providers, vendors and related entities are expected to report to Good Shepherd upon discovery, any potential violations of Good Shepherd's Corporate Compliance Program or other policies and procedures.

Discipline for Violations

Good Shepherd employees, contracted health care providers, vendors and related entities should do what is permissible, acceptable and expected. That means using common sense, good judgment and proper behavior. Violation of Good Shepherd's Corporate Compliance Program and other policies and procedures could compromise Good Shepherd's integrity and reputation, and may result in termination of employment of a Good Shepherd employee, termination of business with a contracted health care provider, vendor or related entity and based on the violation, reporting to the appropriate authorities. Health care providers, vendors and related entities should take appropriate disciplinary actions for those employees, representatives and subcontractors found to be in violation, up to and including termination of contract or employment. All such actions should be reported to Good Shepherd's Compliance Officer as referenced in this document.

The following are examples of conduct that can result in termination of contract or employment:

- Authorization or participation in actions that violates the Corporate Compliance Program or other policies.
- Failure to report a violation of the Corporate Compliance Program or other policies.
- Refusal to report a violation of the Corporate Compliance Program and other policies.
- Refusal to cooperate in an investigation of an alleged violation of the Corporate Compliance Program or other policies.
- Failure to detect and report a violation of the Corporate Compliance Program or other policies, if such failure reflects inadequate supervision or lack of oversight.
- Retaliation against an individual for reporting or participating in the investigation of a violation or possible violation of the Corporate Compliance Program or other policies.

TYPES OF COMPLIANCE ISSUES TO REPORT

All employees or contractors are expected to report any reasonably suspected or known violations of any of the following:

- Applicable legal requirements.
- Good Shepherd standards of conduct, policies or procedures contained in the Compliance Program and any attachments.

- Other compliance policies and procedures which are currently included in the Good Shepherd Policy and Procedure Manual.

- Any employee or contractor who acquires information that gives him or her reason to believe that another employee or contractor is engaged in or plans to engage in conduct prohibited by the Compliance Program.

- Any information indicating that any other person or entity associated with Good Shepherd plans to violate the standards of conduct or policies and procedures contained in the Compliance Program.

- If he/she is instructed, directed, or requested to engage in conduct prohibited by the Compliance Program.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

All health care providers, vendors and related entities and their employees, representatives and subcontractors supporting Good Shepherd business are required to avoid conflicts of interest. Good Shepherd associates must not engage in activities that compete with any of Good Shepherd's lines of business. Good Shepherd associates should not invest in entities they may select, manage or evaluate as a vendor to Good Shepherd.

Health care providers, vendors and related entities must be sensitive to these relationships and avoid creating situations that encourage a Good Shepherd associate to violate these policies. Health care providers, vendors and related entities should never offer or provide, directly or indirectly, anything of value – including cash, bribes or kickbacks – to any Good Shepherd associate, representative or customer or government official in connection with any Good Shepherd procurement, transaction or business dealing. Such prohibition includes offering or providing consulting, employment or similar position by a health care provider, vendor or related entity to any Good Shepherd associate involved with a Good Shepherd procurement. This also applies to their family members or significant others.

Good Shepherd health care providers, vendors and related entities are required to obtain a conflict of interest statement upon hire and annually thereafter from all employees and representatives. This statement certifies that the employee or representative is free from any conflict of interest for administering or delivering Medicare benefits or services. In addition, Good Shepherd reserves the right to obtain certifications from all providers, vendors and related entities to verify that entity (ies) and their employees and representatives are free from conflicts of interest.

GIFTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

It is Good Shepherd's policy that associates cannot give to or accept from health care providers, vendors or related entities gifts with a value greater than $50 USD. Any nominal gifts or courtesies must be lawful, unsolicited and infrequent. Gifts of money or cash equivalents are never permissible. The health care provider, vendor or related entity should not present gifts to associates of Good Shepherd. A Good Shepherd health care provider, vendor or related entity is expected to understand the business entertainment policies of Good Shepherd before offering or providing any Good Shepherd associate or representative any business entertainment. Business entertainment should never be offered to a Good Shepherd associate or representative by a health care provider, vendor or related entity under circumstances that create an appearance of impropriety.

ANTI-KICKBACK LAWS

Federal anti-kickback laws prohibit people from paying for meals, refreshments, travel or lodging for government employees. Medicare and Medicaid specific laws prohibit knowingly offering, paying, soliciting or receiving remuneration of any kind to induce the referral of business under a federal program. Federal acquisition regulations state that no gratuities, in the form of entertainment, gifts or otherwise, or kickbacks shall be offered or given by a health care provider, vendor or related entity, or anyone acting on a health care provider's, vendor's or related entity's behalf, to any employee of the government or prime contractor of the health care provider, vendor or related entity with a view toward securing favorable treatment. The U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act prohibits U.S. citizens and organizations – including foreign companies of U.S. organizations – from paying foreign officials for the purposes of gaining a business advantage. In addition, most states have laws that prohibit kickbacks and rebates. Violators are subject to imprisonment, high fines, and exclusion from Medicare and Medicaid and government contracts, costly civil penalties and possible prosecution under many similar state laws.

GOOD SHEPHERD DOES NOT PAY FOR REFERRALS

- Good Shepherd will not pay or accept payment from anyone -- employees, physicians, hospitals, or other health care professionals and providers -- for referrals.
- Good Shepherd will not make payments or provide non-cash benefits (e.g., office space, services of support personnel, etc.) to any physician or other health care professional in exchange for, or in order to induce, referrals.

Guidelines for Appropriate Referrals by Non-Employees and Employees

Physicians and other health care professionals who are not employees of Good Shepherd are free to refer residents/patients/clients/children to any person or entity they deem appropriate, or as requested by the resident/patient/client/child. Where employees of Good Shepherd are in a position to make referrals, they must make such referrals based on the preferences of the individual seeking treatment, or, if the individual does not express a preference for a particular provider, what is best for the individual. In any case, referrals by employees of Good Shepherd must be made without regard to the number of referrals any physician or other health care professional has made to Good Shepherd.

ANTI-TRUST LAWS

State and federal antitrust laws prohibit monopolistic conduct and agreements that restrain trade. Good Shepherd is committed to competition and consumer choice in the marketplace. All health care providers, vendors and related entities must adhere to the antitrust laws and must avoid any agreements or understandings with competitors on price, customers, markets or other terms of dealing, and avoid trade practices that unfairly or unreasonably restrain competition in dealings with customers.

Liability for any person or company who knowingly submits or causes to be submitted a false or fraudulent claim (any request or demand for money) to the U.S. government is documented in the False Claims Act.

Whistleblower (Qui Tam) Protection – 31 United States Code Service (USC) 3730 (h)

The whistleblower provision protects employees who assist the federal government in investigation and prosecution of violations of the False Claims Act. Whistleblower protections apply only to actions taken in furtherance of a viable False Claims Act case, which has been, or is about to be, filed. The provision prevents retaliation against employees such as firing them for assisting in the investigation and prosecution. If any retaliation does occur, the employee has a right to obtain legal counsel to defend the actions taken.

Note: A whistleblower (Qui Tam) is someone, such as an employee, who reports suspected misconduct that would be considered an action against company policy or federal laws or regulations.

Physician Self-Referral Prohibition Statute commonly referred to as the “Stark Law” 1877 of the Social Security Act (42 USC 1395)

This statute prohibits physicians from referring Medicare patients for certain designated health services (DHS) to an entity with which the physician or a member of the physician's immediate family has a financial relationship, unless an exception applies. It also prohibits an entity from presenting or causing to be presented a bill or claim to anyone for a DHS furnished as a result of a prohibited referral. For more information, see <http://www.cms.hhs.gov/PhysicianSelfReferral> on the CMS website.

ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING

Good Shepherd has an anti-money laundering program that is based on assessed risks associated with Good Shepherd's covered entities. The program is designed to reasonably prevent Good Shepherd from being used by others to facilitate money laundering and the financing of terrorist activities involving any covered entity, and to report suspicious transactions involving any covered entity to the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN). Health care providers, vendors and related entities may not engage in money laundering or finance terrorist activities, and are expected to have programs to prevent and detect such activities.

FAIR MARKET VALUE

Any payments to physicians, other health care professionals and providers, or other individuals or entities that provide items or services in connection with the delivery of health care services by Good Shepherd must represent the fair market value of specific items or services provided or rendered pursuant to a written contract that has been approved through the Good Shepherd contract approval process.

FRAUD, WASTE & ABUSE

Good Shepherd has zero tolerance for any activity that constitutes fraud, waste or abuse. The detection, correction and prevention of fraud, waste and abuse is essential to maintaining a health care system that is affordable for everyone. Both state and federal law enforcement agencies are increasingly focused on investigating health care fraud, waste and abuse. In 2006, CMS issued the Medicare Fraud, Waste and Abuse Guidance that may be found at:

http://www.cms.hhs.gov/PrescriptionDrugCovContra/Downloads/PDBManual_Chapter9_FWA.pdf

The following are definitions of fraud, waste and abuse:

Fraud means an intentional deception or misrepresentation made by a person with the knowledge that the deception could result in some unauthorized benefit to him or herself or some other person. It includes any act that constitutes fraud under applicable federal or state law.

Waste means to use up health care benefits or spend health care dollars without real need. For example, prescribing a medication for 30 days with a refill when it is not known if the medication will be needed.

Abuse means health care provider practices that are inconsistent with sound fiscal, business or medical practices and result in unnecessary cost to the health care system, or in reimbursement for services that are not medically necessary or that fail to meet professionally recognized standards for health care. It also includes beneficiary practices that result in unnecessary cost to the health care system. Contracted health care providers, vendors and related entities are responsible for developing their own comprehensive plan for detecting, correcting and preventing fraud, waste and abuse

QUALITY OF CARE

Good Shepherd is a faith-based care campus dedicated to serving those entrusted to us with dignity, respect and compassion, in a safe and cheerful environment. Our goal is to provide extraordinary care, while creating moments of joy and a sense of belonging. Good Shepherd Administrative staff are familiar with and support Good Shepherd's commitment to compliance of 42CFR part 483(part 483) which sets forth the principal requirements for nursing facility participation in the Medicare and Medicaid programs. Targeted training in the requirements of part 483 is given to care providers, managers, administrative staff, officers and directors of Good Shepherd. Good Shepherd ensures that corporation meets the requirements of part 483 and state and federal policies by reviewing survey results, training of staff, reviewing policies and procedures and monitoring that all staff follow state and federal policies.

- Good Shepherd schedules staff to comply with state and federal policy and in regard to maintaining the highest practicable physical, mental and psychological well-being of residents. Staffing patterns are assessed regularly to ensure that there are sufficient and qualified staff to care for the unique acuity levels of the residents. In assessing staffing models, schedulers keep in mind resident case-mix, staff skill levels, staff-to-resident ratios, staff turnover, staff schedules, disciplinary records, payroll records, timesheets and adverse even reports(e.g. falls or adverse drug events), as well as receiving input from staff, resident's families or legal guardians.
- Comprehensive Resident Care Plans are developed for each resident to ensure that each resident is receiving necessary medical, nursing and mental and psychosocial needs. The care plans include reasonable objectives and timetables. Good Shepherd ensures that all care planning includes all disciplines involved in resident care. Perfunctory meetings and plans are conducted with the full clinical team. The full interdisciplinary team meets regularly and completes all assessments before the meeting is convened. During these meetings, there is an exchange of information between the direct care providers and interdisciplinary team members, the resident and the resident's family members or legal guardian. Documentation is kept on the length and content of the meeting.

Good Shepherd ensures that a physician supervises each resident's care. The physician is involved in the resident's care plan through consulting, care planning, and meeting either in person or via meeting attendance.

- Good Shepherd follows part 483 regulations in providing pharmaceutical services(including procedures that assure accurate acquiring, receiving, dispensing and administering of all drugs and biologicals) to meet the needs of each resident. Good Shepherd has a policy and procedure in place for maintaining accurate drug records and tracking medications. All staff involved in pharmaceutical care of residents are trained on a regular basis on proper medication management. A policy and procedure is in place to ensure the proper tracking of medications and keeping accurate drug records. Good Shepherd works closely with the facility's licensed pharmacist in helping to identify, evaluate and address medication issues. The pharmacist reviews the drug regimen of each resident at least once a month. The pharmacist shall report any irregularities discovered in a resident's drug regimen to the attending physician and the director of nursing. The pharmacist also keeps a record of the receipt and disposition of all controlled drugs.
- Good Shepherd ensures that psychotropic medications are used appropriately. Good Shepherd does not use any medication as a means of chemical restraint for purposes of discipline or convenience and which are not required to treat a resident's medical symptoms. Unless otherwise contraindicated residents who are prescribed psychotropic medications, receive gradual dose reductions and behavioral interventions aimed at reducing medication use. Good Shepherd ensures that there is adequate indication for the use of the medication and monitors, documents and reviews the use of any resident's psychotropic drugs. The use of psychotropic drugs is monitored by the physician, medical director, pharmacist and resident care providers and outcomes of care reviewed to ensure that the resident's care plan is being effective or if the plan needs to be adjusted to meet the resident's needs.
- All residents have the legal right to be free from abuse and neglect. Good Shepherd promotes resident safety through implementing policies and procedures to prohibit mistreatment, neglect and abuse of residents. Procedures to report abuse and neglect and the procedures used to investigate a report are outlined in the Corporate Compliance Policy.
- Good Shepherd care staff are trained to be aware of and report to their immediate supervisor any resident to resident interactions which may be considered abusive. In an attempt of avoid resident to resident abuse, Good Shepherd properly screens and assesses residents as part of the admission process. Periodic resident assessments, comprehensive care plans, and adequate staffing assignments are used to monitor and ensure that a safe environment is provided for all residents.

- Good Shepherd will not hire or maintain employment of any individuals who have been found guilty of abuse, neglect or mistreatment of residents or individuals with a finding entered into the State nurse aide registry concerning abuse, neglect, mistreatment of residents or misappropriation of their property. Good Shepherd runs a background check and performs an OIG exclusion check on all prospective employees. Employees must provide verification of their education, licensing certification and training.

- Good Shepherd requires that all agencies and employees within the organization follow state and federal regulations and policies which are specific to their department in caring for and interacting with tenants, clients, residents, children and families. There is zero tolerance for abuse, waste and/or neglect within any agency that is a part of Good Shepherd.

RESERVED BED PAYMENTS

If a resident requires hospitalization, he/ she may sign a bed hold agreement form. It will be explained to the resident and/or resident's family what is included in the bed hold policy. - ✓ Approved by the Business Services Director and Executive Director
- ✓ In accordance with established Business Services policies and procedures.

BILLING PERSONNEL

Responsibility of Billing Personnel

Good Shepherd requires all billing personnel to be knowledgeable regarding the billing policies and procedures relating to health care services furnished by Good Shepherd and established by government programs and private third party payers.

Responsibilities of the Business Services Director

Good Shepherd employs a Business Services Director who is responsible for:

- ✓ Overseeing all billing services performed on behalf of Good Shepherd.

Responsibilities of the Billing Clerk

All questions regarding billing requirements should be directed to the Billing Clerk. If the Billing Clerk is unable to answer billing questions that arise, then he or she should contact sources outside of Good Shepherd for additional information and/or clarification regarding the appropriate billing requirements, including:

- Attendance by billing personnel at outside seminars and in-house training sessions will be documented by the Business Services Director.

EVALUATION OF BILLING PRACTICES

Periodic Review of Billing and Cost Reporting Practices

On a periodic basis, and no less often than annually, Good Shepherd will evaluate the appropriateness of its billing and cost reporting practices by reviewing the current billing and cost reporting requirements for all items and services furnished by Good Shepherd, in order to determine whether each billing and cost reporting practice complies with the applicable billing and cost reporting requirements.

This review of billing and cost reporting practices will include a detailed review of any issues that have been identified as a result of internal audits or claims monitoring activity, and any issues that have been identified by CMS, the OIG, or other federal or state government agencies as problematic for health care providers.

Any questions as to the appropriateness of a particular billing or cost reporting policy or practice will be directed to outside experts if necessary.

Correcting Any Identified Inconsistencies

In order to correct any identified inconsistencies between current billing and cost reporting practices and the applicable billing and cost reporting requirements, these steps will be taken:

- The inconsistency will be documented.
- A corrective action plan will be prepared, which will include a description of any in-house training that will be provided to billing personnel in order to address the identified billing and cost reporting compliance issues.
- Participation by billing personnel in any such training programs will be documented.
- Advice on these issues from legal counsel will be obtained as necessary.

CLAIMS MONITORING

Good Shepherd will develop a plan and procedures for pre-submission and post-submission claims monitoring, which will:

- Include the development of specific guidelines for determining which claims are to be reviewed
- Ensure thorough documentation of actions relating to such review.

Pre-Submission Review

The pre-submission review will:

- Include a comparison of the codes billed with the documentation provided in the medical record.
- Ensure that all items and services billed, and the medical necessity of such items and services, are adequately and accurately described and documented

The pre-submission review will also include a procedure whereby:

- Questions regarding claims are directed to the appropriate physician or other health professional involved, and
- Any needed clarification and/or amendments to the documentation relating to the claim are made by appropriate personnel.
- The claim reviewer will document the results of all pre-submission claims monitoring.

The Post-Submission Review

The post-submission review will include a random audit of claims submitted by Good Shepherd over a specified period.

- The audit will include a comparison of the documentation in the resident/patient/client's medical record with the service billed.
- If the documentation contained in the medical record does not support the services billed, the individual conducting the audit will review the claim with the billing health professional to determine whether additional information can be added to the resident/patient/client's medical record so that the medical record will accurately reflect the services that were in fact provided.
- All entries in a resident/patient/client's medical record must be made in accordance with the applicable Good Shepherd medical records policies.
- The post-submission review will include specific procedures for taking corrective action, including submitting revised bills or refunding overpayments, where appropriate.
- Corrective action will be thoroughly documented by the Compliance Officer.
- Such documentation will be maintained in the Compliance Officer's files.
